

Better Than the Movies by Lynn Painter

Liz has pined after Michael for as long as she can remember—and she thought she lost her chance when he moved away, but now he's back in town. Michael has become friends with Wes, Liz's annoying next door neighbor, so Liz hatches a plan to get close to Wes, to get close to Michael, to get close to achieving her romcom perfect prom experience. But the more time she spends with Wes, the more Liz is forced to reconsider her plans.

Summer of Lost Letters by Hannah Reynolds

Abby has just broken up with her boyfriend and is sad to see her friends all scatter the summer before senior year. She needs a distraction, and she finds one in the letters she discovers in her late grandmother's belongings. Letters from a man named Edward who lives in Nantucket. Abby doesn't know much about her grandmother's past, beyond that she was WWII refugee, so she decides to head to Nantucket and investigate—and that's where she meets Edward's grandson, Noah.

Any Way the Wind Blows by Rainbow Rowell

In the finale of Rowell's Simon Snow series, the magical trio (and Agatha) will finally put an end to their adventures... if they can! The series spun off the author's YA novel Fangirl and has truly become its own beast. Pro-Tip: Rowell is creepy good at hiding emotional jabs in the most unexpected moments, so make sure you have tissues on hand.

The Girls I've Been by Tess Sharpe

You may have heard that Millie Bobby Brown is already set to star in the film adaptation of this book but hold your horses! Let the book speak for itself first. It's about a con artist's daughter, who becomes an innocent bystander in a bank heist.

Love and Other Natural Disasters by Misa Sugiura

When Nozomi Nagai pictured the ideal summer romance, a fake one wasn't what she had in mind. That was before she met the perfect girl. Willow is gorgeous, glamorous, and... heartbroken? And when she enlists Nozomi to pose as her new girlfriend to make her ex jealous, Nozomi is a willing volunteer. Because Nozomi has a master plan of her own: one to show Willow she's better than a stand-in and turn their fauxmance into something

Love is a Revolution by Renee Watson

When Nala reluctantly attends an open mic night with her cousin, she meets and immediately begins to fall for the emcee, Tye. Although the attraction is real, Nala quickly learns that their interests are very different.

A Taste for Love by Jennifer Yen

Liza Yang agrees to help her mom out at her famous bakery's young baker competition. She realizes all of the contestants are Asian American teen guys.

Romantic Reads

Monroe County Library System
www.libraryweb.org

Compiled by Monroe County Library System
Teen Services Librarians 2022

Cool for the Summer by Dahlia Adler

Lara's teenage dream is seemingly coming true when the guy of her dreams finally takes interest in her... but then a girl she met over the summer comes back into her life and throws everything off balance—or into a love triangle she never saw coming.

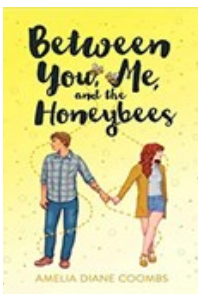

Happily Ever After by Elise Bryant

Tessa is a proud romance writer who loves writing stories where girls like her get to be protagonists and find love. She only shares her stories with her best friend Caroline, until she gets into a prestigious creative writing program...and immediately gets a case of writer's block. Caroline decides what Tessa needs is some real life inspiration, so she comes up with a list of tasks to get Tessa out of her head and out finding love, with some unexpected results.

Between you, me, and the honeybees by Amelia Diane Coombs

Josie has just graduated from high school and wants nothing more than to ignore her college acceptance letter and get to work in her family's honey bee business. But her mom is excited for Josie to be the first to attend college in her family, and Josie's not sure how to tell her she's already rejected the offer. To make things more complicated, Josie meets and begins to fall for the grandson of her mom's number one competitor in the honey business...it's sure to be a busy summer!

I Think I Love You by Auraine Desombre

Emma and Sophie are die-hard archnemeses competing for the top spot in their film program's competition. First prize gets to go to an exclusive film festival in L.A., which will absolutely help their careers. But as they compete, they have to slowly admit that what they're feeling probably isn't hate for each other...

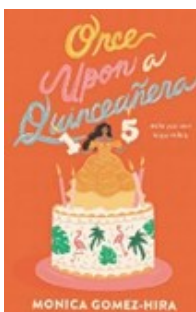

We are Inevitable by Gayle Forman

A laugh-until-you-cry story about a boy who gives up his dreams to stay in a small-town used bookstore with his dad, and the quirky community that comes out of the woodwork to save the store

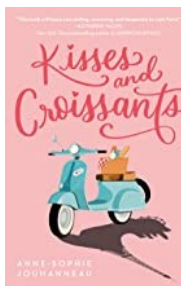

Picture Perfect by Sophie Gonzalez

Seventeen year old Darcy Phillips, a bisexual girl who gives anonymous love advice to her classmates, is hired by the "hot guy" at school to help him get his ex back. When Alexander Brougham catches Darcy collecting letters from locker 89, he blackmails her to become his personal dating coach.

Once Upon a Quinceanera by Monica Gomez-Hira

Thanks to an academic flub, Carmen is stuck spending her summer masquerading as a Disney princess in order to graduate, and it extremely does not help matters that the new Beast to her Beauty is none other than the worst guy in her ex file, Mauro

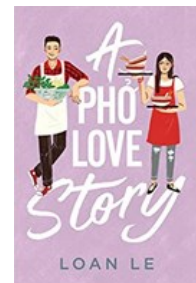

Kisses and Croissants by Anne-Sophie Jouhanneau

Mia is headed to Paris to partake in a six-week elite ballet program, and at the end of her time in Paris she'll have the chance to audition with a world-famous ballet company. But for Mia, there's so much more to Paris than ballet as she meets Louis, a charming French boy who wants to be her tour guide, and she uncovers a few mysteries that surprise them both.

Jay's Gay Agenda by Jason June

Growing up in rural Washington as the only out gay kid means Jay is constantly bombarded with reminders that everyone around him can hook up and have relationships, but his list of love-related to-do's -- his own gay agenda -- is indefinitely, frustratingly, on hold.

A Pho Love Story by Loan Le

Bao and Linh are two teens whose families own rival pho restaurants, and they've been feuding for as long as Bao and Linh have been alive. They mostly avoid each other, but when sparks start flying between the two of them, they have to date in secret

Meet Cute Diary by Emma Lee

Noah Ramirez is the author of the popular blog Meet Cute Diary, a place where he's been chronicling trans happily ever after stories. But when the blog is exposed as fiction—not nonfiction, as he's been claiming—Noah needs to find a way to convince his readers that love is real. Enter Drew, who agrees to a fake dating scheme to save the blog. But the more time they spend together, the more Noah falls for

You Have a Match by Emma Lord

Abby signs up for a DNA service to impress her secret crush, Leo. But when it reveals that Abby has an older sister, a beautiful Instagram star, Savvy Tully, she decides to meet her at a summer camp. Things don't go as planned when Abby learns Leo is working at the camp as well, and she's in for a long summer as she works to get to the bottom of a secret that could change everything.

